About the Seminar

NEP2020, the first education policy of 21st century, built on the foundational pillars of Access, Equity, Quality, Affordability and Accountability, aims to transform India into a vibrant knowledgeable society and global knowledge superpower by making education more holistic, flexible and multidisciplinary.

The policy boldly envisions revamping every step right from early childhood to higher education. Redefining the meaning of Education, the policy provides framework that will create a more immersive exploratory, creative, stimulating and conceptual educational experiment, a welcome shift from "what to think" to "how to think". The policy also suggests multidisciplinary for a holistic learning framework to prepare students for an increasingly multifaceted and rapidly changing world by nurturing creativity, flexibility and transferable skills. Needless to say, that an entire restructuring of higher education is needed, making students' future ready and techno savvy.

The policy so pious in vision suffered a serious set back with onset of corona pandemic and millions of teachers and students had to resort to online platforms or leave their studies. The corona pandemic also means more dropouts, more digitalized learning and teaching, changing modes of evaluation and new psychological, economic and social problems. Challenges are manifold which demands our immediate attention and action. We are trying to cope up with this transformation of teaching-learning, posing newer concerns and challenges before us. The concerns and challenges in the implementation of the policy and the roadmap for its implementation need to be discussed. It is with this purpose, Faculty of Education, MLSU is conducting a Online National Seminar on July 10, 2021 on the theme "Reimagining Teacher Education: Roadmap of NEP-2020 (Concerns & Challenges)". We welcome your active participation and constructive suggestions.
